

Everyday Debit Card

The Everyday Debit Card is connected to a current account.

The card may be temporarily locked or unlocked from the authenticated mobile banking application.

A customer who notices an unrecognized card transaction should immediately lock the card and contact the bank through a secure support channel.

The bank investigates disputed transactions only after verifying the customer's identity.

The bank never asks customers to disclose their PIN, CVV, password, or one-time authentication code.